

Purity is the measure of greatness, BUT the true intention of art is to disappear.

– Ralph Lichtensteiger

[...]

*An artist-as-artist,
Has always nothing to say,
And he must say this over and over again.*

*Especially in his work
What else is there to say?*

*In work or words
What in hell, on earth, or in heaven, is an artist up to when he says he has something to say?*

– Ad Reinhardt
